Coleman Exceeded Loan Quota Wednesday Morning Working Toward Self-Imposed Quota of $200,000

Quota Reached At 10 O'Clock Wednesday Morning; Over $30,000 Secured Within A Few Hours

Self-Imposed Quota of $200,000 Immediately Set and Canvassers Now After New Goal.

When subscriptions had been counted on Tuesday evening it was shown that Coleman still required $30,000 to make its quota of $150,000. Without the slightest resemblance of a smile Unit Organizer Aboussafy calmly announced that the unit would endeavor to go over the following morning.

The following morning Mr. Aboussafy and Mr. W. L. Rippon went into a huddle and came up with a list of names. Jumping in their car they headed first in one direction and then in another, and in a matter of a few hours $30,000 had been rounded up, recorded officially in the books. . . Coleman had gone over the top. The salesmen when they heard the news just grinned. None showed the slightest surprise, in fact, they had expected that the quota would be reached when the two ace salesmen took on the big task. On the stroke of ten the news was being wired to Calgary and Lethbridge. It is thought that the local unit is among the first ten to get its quota in the province.

The pennant for going over the top was hung on main street this morning and the unit received the congratulations of the provincial and southern Alberta Victory Loan officials. In addition Coleman will receive a handsome volume containing pictures of the peace charters being signed at the Allied peace tables of the world. It is a volume of which Coleman will be proud. Only the first fifty provincial units will receive this volume.

As soon as the allotted quota was reached it was agreed by the local War Finance committee to train their sights on a self-imposed $200,000 quota and the salesmen were sent out after the new goal.

Even the new objective was drawing nearer after Wednesday's subscriptions were tabulated, the subscriptions amounting to $157,700.

Some areas are still not canvassed. Due to the exceptionally fine support given by those areas canvassed the unit was over the top before some teams even covered three-quarters of their zones. However, by the early part of next week it is expected that the entire town and district will be more or less covered with only a few call backs to be made.

Seven Coleman Men Returned Home During The Week

Arrived in Canada on the "Elizabeth" at Week End; Families Travelled to Calgary to Meet Them on Wednesday.

Seven more Coleman soldiers arrived in Canada at the week end on the troopship Queen Elizabeth and were scheduled to arrive in Calgary on Wednesday afternoon and evening. Those coming to Coleman include:

CORPORAL JIMMY LLOYD

son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lloyd. Enlisted in May, 1940, with the Royal Canadian Engineers and went overseas in April, 1942. Was in action in Italy, where he was wounded. Now completely recovered.

several years and he has spent a few days in the capital city, having arrived two weeks ago on the Ile de France troopship. They were expected in Coleman either Wednesday or today to visit relatives here.

PTE. ALOISE KRYWOLT son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Krywolt. Enlisted with the Edmonton Fusiliers in September, 1940. Went overseas in May, 1942. Saw action on the western front and marched into Germany.

SAPPER THOMAS SUDWORTH son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sudworth. Enlisted in May, 1941, and went overseas in September, 1941. Has seen action on the western front.

PTE. HERMAN HIRSCH Enlisted with the Calgary Highlanders in September, 1939. Went overseas in 1942. Saw action in Italy, where he was wounded. Served with the Princess Pats in Italy. He is a brother of Mrs. Ronald Jackson.

SAPPER GEORGE BOOTH son of George Booth sr. and husband of the former Miss Beryl Mather, of Drumheller. Enlisted in army in August, 1941. Served with an engineering unit which went right into Germany.

PTE. MEL COUSINS son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cousins and husband of the former Miss Mary Kish. Enlisted early in the war and saw action overseas. His wife has resided at Edmonton for

Council To Give $250 Donation To Coleman's Reception And Rehabilitation Committee

Money To Be Used By Entertainment Committee To Sponsor A Banquet, Concert And Dance To Coleman's Ex-Service Men And Women

Regular meeting of the council was held on Monday evening in the council chamber. Present Mayor Aboussafy, Councillors Cox, Dutil, Jenkins, Lowe, Ramsay and Wilson.

Discussion took place on the subject of a donation towards the banquet, concert and dance planned by the entertainment committee of Coleman's Reception and Rehabilitation Committee which is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 12. It was revealed during the discussion that it is also planned to present each member of Coleman's armed personnel with a suitable gift, this presentation to take place in 1946 when it is presumed all men and women will have arrived back home. It was finally decided to donate $250 to the fund with the hope that other bodies and citizens in town will do their share in creating a fund large enough so that a worth while gift might be presented to each member of the armed personnel.

It was decided that the mayor would have the authority to call a civic holiday on Monday, Nov. 12, should he find that the mines will be idle that day in order that all might suitably observe Remembrance Day.

Councillor Jenkins reported on his committee's findings in regard to increasing the union cemetery's ground and the soldiers' plot. Due to the lateness of the hour, however, his report will be dealt with in detail at the next regular meeting.

Councillor Jenkins also reported that the agreement between the Canadian Legion and the council regarding the newly created Memorial Park was ready for signing. The mayor and secretary were authorized to sign on behalf of the town.

Two weeks ago a letter was sent to the War Assets Corporation regarding the purchase of a fire siren. A letter was received that a siren was available. It was a 5 h.p. and 550-volt siren costing $272.90. Councillor Dutil stated that he would enquire from Blairmore what kind of a siren they used. The matter was left with the Works & Property committee.

A letter was received from E. G. Hansell, MP, stating that he had presented Coleman's request for a radio booster and had been told that to install a feeder line from Fernie would cost $4,000 per year.

He had, however, been successful in having the request placed before the Board of Governors at its next meeting.

Six applications were received in response to council's advertisement for fire fighter volunteers. Council desires a much larger brigade and endeavor to secure additional volunteers. Those making application were appointed to the new fire fighting brigade and Fire Chief Antle was asked to start practices as soon as possible.

Council will recommend to the Department of Trade and Industry that Uno Photo Service be granted a provincial license to operate a business in Coleman.

A letter was received from a government department asking that it verify Mr. Wm. Martland's statement that he had secured the town contract to remove garbage in the town of Coleman. Discussion revealed that Mr. Martland is endeavoring to secure a truck in order to commence his new duties on Nov. 1. A contract has been drafted and will be entered into between the town and Mr. Martland.

Collins & Collins, Calgary, have been engaged to audit the town books for the past nine months. Their audit and recommendations were contained in a report placed before council. Certain specific changes were asked by the auditors and in these the council will concur.

Martin Simla Passed Away On Saturday Morning

Took Suddenly Ill While Engaged at His Employment; Funeral Held Wednesday Morning.

An esteemed citizen passed away at the local hospital on Saturday morning, following an illness of only three days, in the person of Martin Joseph Simla, 63.

Deceased had come to his employment at McGillivray Creek in his usual good spirits. He commenced his work and after a few hours complained to his son Joe, who was his partner, that he felt ill. His son noticed his condition and immediately started to get his father to the surface, a few nearby miners aiding. He was taken to the hospital where on Saturday about 2 a.m. he passed away.

Born in Poland he came to Canada in 1913, settling in Coleman. He worked for four years at International before entering the employ of McGillivray, where he remained till his death. His family joined him here in 1921, the boys and girls receiving their education at the local schools.

Recently deceased purchased a 32-acre fruit farm between Kelowna and Vernon, B.C. and he and his sons had planned on quitting the mine this December and with their families travel to the farm where they would reside.

Surviving are Mrs. Simla; two daughters, Mary and Annie, the latter of Calgary, and two sons, Joe and Walter.

The funeral was held on Wednesday morning, high mass being held in Holy Ghost church, with Rev. L. Sullivan officiating. Pallbearers were members of the Polish Society, of which deceased had been a member. Interment was made in Coleman Catholic cemetery.

PIPE BAND TO SPONSOR CONCERT AND DANCE

The Coleman Clan Donnachaidh pipe band is sponsoring a St. Andrew's night concert and dance in the Community hall on Friday, Nov. 30.

The band has been practising faithfully and the proceeds of this dance is to go for the purchase of further equipment. It is to be hoped that everyone interested in the pipe band and in enjoying a real Scottish program will patronize this event. Fifty cents will buy your ticket from any band member.

A TWELVE POINT FOREIGN POLICY TO PRESERVE PEACE PROCLAIMED BY PRES. TRUMAN

NEW YORK. — President Truman proclaimed to the world a 12-point foreign policy based on the use of military power to preserve peace while planning to outlaw the atomic bomb.

"Loss of faith in the effectiveness of international organization," is the great threat to peace, he said. "In an atomic age it would be nothing short of disastrous."

Until world co-operation reaches the state where atomic methods of destruction can be "definitely and effectively outlawed forever," the United States will hold the weapon as a "sacred trust."

The United States regards possession of the atomic bomb, the secret of which is held by herself, Britain and Canada, as a "sacred trust" which "will not be violated," the president said. But he declared the highest hope of the American people is for a state of world co-operation in which "the atomic methods of destruction can be definitely and effectively outlawed forever."

Making clear that coming talks among the United States, Britain and Canada concerning the future of the atomic energy will be concerned only with the exchange of scientific knowledge and not the secrets of manufacturing processes of the atomic bomb, the president said:

"Discussion of the atomic bomb with Great Britain and Canada and later with other nations cannot wait upon the formal organization of the United Nations. These discussions, looking toward a free exchange of fundamental scientific information, will be begun in the near future. But I emphasize again, as I have before, that these discussions will not be concerned with the processes of manufacturing the atomic bomb or any other instruments of war."

The president's first-odd statement of foreign policy since he took office last April was made at a navy day rally in Central Park.

It came in the midst of intense diplomatic efforts to bring about better relations with Russia and a few hours after disclosure that Marshal Stalin had received an undisclosed message from Mr. Truman through United States ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

Mr. Truman said differences which exist among the Allies "are not hopeless or irreconcilable."

He set forth these 12 principles:

1. No territorial expansion, no plans for aggression, no objective "which need clash with the peaceful aims of any other nation."
2. Eventual return of sovereign rights and self-government "to all peoples who have been deprived of them by force."
3. No territorial changes involving friendly peoples except with their "freely expressed wishes."
4. Self government for all peoples prepared for it "without interference from any foreign source."
5. Co-operation with the Allies to help defeated enemy states "establish peaceful democratic governments of their own free choice" and a world "in which Nazism, fascism and military aggression cannot exist."
6. No recognition for any government imposed upon a country by foreign power and prevention where possible of "forceful imposition of such a government."
7. Freedom of the seas for all countries and "equal rights to the navigation of boundary rivers and waterways and of rivers and waterways which pass through more than one country."

8. Access of countries "on equal terms to the trade and the raw materials of the world."

9. The right of "the sovereign states of the western hemisphere, without interference from outside the western hemisphere" to "work together as good neighbors in the solution of their common problems."

10. Economic collaboration among all nations for improved living conditions and establishment of freedom from fear and freedom from want."

11. Freedom of expression and freedom of religion "throughout the peace-loving areas of the world."

12. Preservation of peace through the United Nations "composed of all the peace-loving nations of the world who are willing jointly to use force if necessary to insure peace."

FARM PRODUCTION

Will Be Decisive Factor In Winning The Peace

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich.—The output of farms on the North American continent will be "one of the deciding factors in winning the peace and insuring true democracy in Europe, just as the output of our factories tipped the scales of victory," William Wake of Borden, Sask., told delegates to the moral rearmament world assembly here.

A farmer in the Canadian "drought belt" where 85 per cent. of the community was on relief in 1937, Mr. Wake said farmers had "a responsibility to feed people and care for the soil so that future generations can be fed."

SCHOOL CONTINUES

Canadians For Occupation Forces Are Learning Japanese Language

VANCOUVER. — The Canadian army disclosed it has been operating a Japanese language school in Vancouver since August, 1942, and announced the school will continue until next June to provide a Canadian quota with the occupation forces in Japan.

One hundred and ninety-four officers and men have passed through the school, most of them white Canadians and the remainder Canadian-born Japanese. There are about 120 at the school now, 60 of them being Canadian-born Japanese.

Liner New Amsterdam Is Again In Service For Netherlands

AMSTERDAM.—The liner Nieuw Amsterdam, flagship of the Holland-American line which up to now has been rechartered Canadian servicemen from Europe, has been turned back to the Netherlands, it was learned. She sailed for the Netherlands East Indies carrying a complement of Dutch troops.

Since VE-Day more than 24,000 Canadians have been repatriated aboard the Nieuw Amsterdam.

SUPPORT IS NEEDED ELECTION RETURNS

Demands On The Poppy Fund Are Increasing Daily—Can You Help Meet These Demands?

Yes, every resident in the province can help meet the ever-increasing demands being made on the Poppy Fund. The Poppy Fund, which is worthy of the support of every man, woman and child, provides assistance for necessitous cases among Servicemen, ex-Servicemen and their dependents and also maintains the Service Bureau, which is ever-ready to advise members and ex-members of the services in all their problems. The Poppy Fund is made up of the proceeds from all Poppy and Wreath sales, and depends solely on the support of the general public. Your purchase of a poppy or wreath will make it possible for the Canadian Legion, which organization is the sole distributor of poppies and wreaths, to help some needy person who has seen service in His Majesty's Forces, or his dependents. May we have your support during the forthcoming campaign? Wear a Poppy, or buy a Wreath, this November 11th to show your appreciation of what our boys and girls have done, and to help those who have been disabled, or who have otherwise suffered as a result of service. The help of everyone is needed—and everyone can help—by wearing a Poppy, the Flower of Remembrance!

ATOMIC ENERGY

U.S. Senate Votes To Create A Committee To Deal With Problem

WASHINGTON. — The United States senate resolved a dispute over procedure on measures dealing with atomic energy by voting to create a special committee of 11 to handle them.

The decision represented a victory for those senators who had argued, as some of them phrased it, that "this thing is too big to be left in the hands of the military."

The new committee of 11—six Democrats and five Republicans—will study the atomic energy measure the administration has sent to the capital. This bill would establish a commission appointed by the president to control domestic development and use of atomic energy.

CHURCHILL HONORED

Britain's Wartime Leader To Receive Five Campaign Awards

LONDON.—The King has personally ordered the despatch to Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime leader, of five war campaign awards—the 1939-45 Star, the Africa Star, the Italy Star, the France and Germany Star and the Defence Medal.

Mr. Churchill's war services, which entailed 50,000 miles of world travel, entitle him to all five awards.

He is the third prime minister to be so honored. The others were Herbert Asquith, Liberal prime minister at the outbreak of the First Great War, and David Lloyd George, who succeeded Mr. Asquith.

GOOD SUGGESTION

Keep Germany Out Of Air Urges U.S. Lieutenant-General

WIESBADEN.—Keeping Germany out of the air completely was urged by Lt.-Gen. John K. Cannon, commanding general of the United States strategic air forces in Europe.

"Without an air force they would have no war potentialities," Gen. Cannon said in an interview.

"If the Germans have no aircraft—commercial or any other kind—they would have no pilots or facilities," he declared.

HAMILTON, Ont.—Canada's defence preparations must be reconsidered in the light of the knowledge that before long the secret of atomic power will be world property, Air Minister Gibson said in a recorded broadcast. Col. Gibson said the development of the atomic bomb meant that an entirely new plan of defence must be worked out.

Oceans and "vast expanses of uninhabited areas" no longer would prove a defensive barrier for Canada. These barriers would be overcome by mechanically-guided missiles carrying small atomic warheads, leaving space for ample fuel to provide long range.

Single missiles might be able to accomplish what had been formerly done by several thousand bombers. And since the use of atomic power gave a bomb such a wide radius of destruction, extensive defence no longer of paramount importance in any attempt to destroy a definite target.

Col. Gibson said it was the reconsideration of defence preparations that had resulted in plans for the future of the armed forces appearing to be "somewhat vague."

He then gave for the first time some idea of what service officials are considering in the way of defence preparations.

"The massing of armed vehicles," he said, "or the collection of ships in convoy must be avoided. It would be necessary if aggression appeared imminent, to go far beyond mere military precautions."

"It may be essential, even in this country of vast expanses, to eventually disperse key industries into small units. For example, it may become imperative to avoid the concentration of key industries all dependent upon the power developed at Niagara."

A continued state of preparedness was essential, but there was no disposition on the part of the government to turn the country into an armed camp.

LOAN NECESSARY

LONDON.—Britain must borrow a sum almost equaling 10 per cent. of her national debt if she is to meet the deficit the Labor government predicts for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 1946.

CONFERENCE UNANIMOUSLY FAVORED IMPERIAL PREFERENCE TO ENSURE ECONOMIC STABILITY

LONDON.—A conference of chambers of commerce of the British Empire, reported unanimously in favor of imperial preference, declaring that the economic stability of one-quarter of the world's population was of vital interest to all.

The conference was attended by representatives of the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Eire, India, Newfoundland, Southern Rhodesia, East and West Africa, Ceylon and the West Indies.

A statement drawn up by the conference was read at a press conference, presided over by Lord Balfour of Inchey, newly-elected president of the federation of C. of C. of the B.E., by D. P. Cruckshank, of Ottawa, who said the five-man Canadian delegation he led to the federation meeting fully approved of the principle of imperial preference in trade.

Mr. Cruckshank said the conference had not discussed whether Imperial preference required review and perhaps a change in some detail, but the question was a matter which required detailed analysis from time to time by the United Kingdom and the dominions since the dominions had an independent interest in the subject as direct and considerable as Britain herself.

"Canada stands for freedom of enterprise on the broadest scale possible and consequently favors the progressive decrease and ultimate cessation of the bulk of government purchasing."

"Canada also recognizes the financial difficulties with which Britain is battling. We believe the solution of Britain's problems is to be found in the expansion of world trade and this can be brought about only by maintenance of multilateral trade arrangements."

"The Canadian delegation is firmly of the opinion that unless the world picture today is viewed in the broadest aspect, and countries plan for imports as well as exports and seek wide expansion of trade, it will not be possible for countries which have made the chief contributions toward our common war effort to carry the great burdens of debt incurred during the past six years."

International finance was a subject of interest to all delegates to the federation conference, he said. The Canadians with others approved a declaration on the Anglo-American monetary talks now underway in Washington, which said that the self-interest of other countries demanded an early solution of Britain's financial problems. Failing settlement, Britain would be compelled to restrict imports to her capacity to pay, whereas only by expansion could war burdens be carried.

Australian and New Zealand spokesmen declared their dominions' continued loyalty to Britain and readiness to buy British goods on the pre-war scale.

THE ROYAL COMMISSION MAY FRAME CANADIAN COAL POLICY AFTER A SURVEY OF SITUATION

OTTAWA.—The royal commission investigating the Canadian coal industry has settled down to the task of shaping recommendations for a Canadian fuel policy, based on volumes of evidence gathered in a nine-month survey of the Canadian coal situation.

Public hearings are completed, but it is expected the three-man commission will require until early next year to write its report. The commission is under the chairmanship of Mr. Justice W. F. Carroll of Halifax, with Mr. Justice C. C. McLaurin and Angus Morrison, both of Calgary, as members.

Charged with the job of making a complete survey of all phases of the Canadian coal situation, the commission started hearings in Sydney, N.S., last January, crossed Canada hearing evidence in every province, visited American coal mine areas and returned to Sydney for further hearings a few weeks ago before the final Ottawa sittings.

From evidence it has become evident that:

1. The Dominion's fuel policy must be designed to assure adequate supplies in periods of emergency.

2. Canadian mines cannot provide the whole of Canada's requirements.

3. Assistance must be provided to Canadian mines if their coal is to compete with American coal in Ontario and Quebec.

The most fundamental problem is the geographic location of Canadian mines—in the Maritimes and western Canada—far distant from the central part of the country where demand for coal is greatest.

Under peacetime conditions the government gave assistance on freight movement to Ontario and Quebec to enable Canadian coal to compete with that of American mines and under those conditions roughly one half of the coal consumed in Canada came from Canadian mines. During the war Canada leaned more heavily on American mines.

It has been argued before the commission that generous assistance should be given Canadian mines so that they will be readily available in time of need. Supporters also referred to the government post-war policy of full employment and held that a reduction in Canadian coal mining operations would be contrary to that policy.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Coleman Does It Again

At 10 a.m. Wednesday Coleman kept faith with its soldiers and its country by going over the top in the $150,000 quota given it by provincial loan headquarters. Its record in the past nine loans is truly a magnificent one.

Fears that the strike would cut serious inroads into the loan locally were soon dispelled as each night saw the quota loom nearer and nearer with numerous subscriptions received from every area in town.

Since this is the last loan which will see the huge sales organization used, which has been built up during the war years, it is interesting to look back on the first few loans. At that time it was a really selling job the salesmen had to do. The public was suspicious, especially the Europeans who in the last war had taken a heavy loss, and still vividly remembered their losses. To them the same might happen again. Luckily the quotas then were much smaller than those set today. Possibly one feature that made selling easier was the ease with which the banks cashed bonds turned in. This soon dispelled much doubt in the minds of some. Then again clipping coupons and taking them to the bank where they were promptly cashed also helped to sell bonds in later loans.

Today with few exceptions bonds sell themselves. The salesmen often speak of subscribers who have voiced their disappointment at not buying more bonds in the early loans and a few salesmen have reported subscribers voicing regret that this is the last loan. They desire more loans as they have found it is a sure way to save money. Fear of bonds in the early days has given way to complete confidence in the security of bonds.

That the public will be given the opportunity to save by means of bonds next year is almost certain. However, the bonds will very probably be sold through banks, brokerage houses, etc., but will not be sold by the Victory Loan salesmen who have knocked at John Public's door twice a year for the past four years. That young man with the kit slung under his arm will bid you farewell at the conclusion of the loan next week.

Japanese

On Sunday a Victory Loan team travelled out to the Lime Kiln to sell bonds. In this area there are six Japanese families, some having come from other points in Alberta, some from British Columbia. They are all young couples who speak English without the slightest trace of an accent and it is believed that they are all Canadian born.

Not one family showed the slightest hesitation to purchase a bond. In fact, they were ready with their cash or time payment plans before the canvassers knocked on their doors. No nationality could be easier to sell than these Japanese couples. The fact that they have been taken from homes and jobs which they had established throughout the years does not appear to have soured them against Canada. They are making the best of a bad situation and we believe deep down in their hearts are hoping for "peace on earth, goodwill toward man."

Require Public Library

A year ago steps were taken to start organization of a public library. It went as far as the town council where a committee was appointed to work on the foundation of a public library, seeking out a suitable building, securing books and finances.

Pending developments at that particular time tended to slow up the committee's activities, especially that pertaining to a building. A year later these developments are still "pending" and it is about time that they were ignored and work started on securing facilities for a library. Coleman is much too large a town not to possess a library where citizens might take out particular books from which they may seek enjoyment or education.

Fire Fighting Brigade

A progressive step has been taken by the town council in planning the organization of a competent fire fighting brigade. Once this brigade is organized the uncertainty of securing sufficient fire fighters to man the hoses will be eliminated and greater fire protection afforded the ratepayer.

Too long have we been without an efficient fire fighting body.

Aboussafy Jubilant Over Coleman's Fine Showing

Sets New Objective at $200,000 and Sends Canvassers After New Goal.

Unit organizer Frank Aboussafy was in high spirits on Wednesday morning as some "heavy sugar" was uncovered to bring Coleman up to and surpass its allotted quota of $150,000. No time was lost in wiring and phoning the good news to provincial headquarters and to Lethbridge, nerve centre of the southern Alberta units.

The unit organizer paid tribute to the generous support the citizens of Coleman had given his organization. The canvassers had reported nightly with heavy subscriptions and the issue was never in doubt after the first couple of days.

In a statement to The Journal Unit Organizer Aboussafy stated:

"I wish to extend my personal and that of Coleman's War Finance committee's and canvassers' thanks and deep appreciation to the citizens of Coleman and district for their magnificent support in the Ninth Victory Loan.

"They have shown by their support that they fully realize that while the shooting has ceased war expenditures are of necessity being maintained at a high rate in order that soldiers may be returned home, that the country be brought back to peacetime trends and that credits must be established to foreign countries so that Canada might safeguard her world export markets.

"It is expected that this will be the last loan in which Coleman's War Finance committee and salesmen will be used. My message to the citizens would not be complete until I have thanked them for their worthwhile and appreciated support over the last eight loans. They have a Victory Loan record of which they may be very proud. Let's finish the last Victory Loan in a blaze of glory. Let's reach the self-imposed quota of $200,000. With the help of all we can do it."

MR. AND MRS. J. DERBYSHIRE
CELEBRATED BIRTHDAYS

Seldom do married couples' birthdays fall on the same day, but such is the case with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Derbyshire, who both celebrated their respective birthdays on Saturday, Oct. 27.

The kindness of friends and neighbors was shown by the gifts, cards and social calls made to their home on Third street and for which Mr. and Mrs. Derbyshire express their deep appreciation.

INJURED BY TRUCK

On Saturday morning the driver of Coleman Dairy's milk truck received cuts and bruises when he lost control of the truck and it backed into him.

It appeared that the driver started to jack up the truck while it was part way up the hill at the east end of Fourth street. It slipped off the jack and careened backwards, resulting in the driver being slightly cut and bruised. He was taken to hospital where he was given attention and then allowed home.

Legion Members to March to Service in a Body;
Pipe Band to Lead Parade.

Coleman branch of the Canadian Legion has completed plans for marking Remembrance Day Service on Sunday, Nov. 11, and an invitation is extended to the general public to attend.

At 9:30 a.m. members of the Canadian Legion will fall in at the Legion hall. Returned veterans are requested to attend in uniform. It is planned to have the parade pass through the main street, led by Coleman's pipe band under Pipe Major J. Moore. The service will start at 10 a.m. and will be taken part in by the local clergy.

Mr. And Mrs. Wm. Chapman Leave For Vancouver

First Came Here in 1915;
Had Been Interested in Community Activities.

Coleman lost two of its old-timers and well known citizens last Friday morning when Mr. and Mrs. William Chapman left by train for their new home in Vancouver after twenty years residence in Coleman.

They first settled on Vancouver Island when they originally came to Canada and Mr. Chapman worked five years in the coal mines on the island. In 1915 he came to Coleman, being joined two years later by Mrs. Chapman and family.

Their family of two, Miss Peggy, now Mrs. Robert Burt, of Vancouver, was formerly on the teaching staff of Cameron school, and their son, Bill, left school for the States, settling in the San Francisco area, where he is now married and doing very well in his employment.

Mr. Chapman, during his residence here, was active in union activities, and served two terms on the town council. In the field of sport he was greatly interested in football and was a leading figure in promoting this particular sport in Coleman. He was also interested in other sports activities and for many years was a leading curler, taking part in a number of local and district bonspiels.

They have no set plans for their new home other than to enjoy themselves to the full in British Columbia's mild west coast climate. Their many friends here wish them many years of health and happiness in their new home.

T.B. Questions And Answers

Q. Could a person who has had immediate contact with a very active case of tuberculosis contract the disease, develop symptoms and have the disease show up in the X-ray in three months' time?

A. Yes, if the exposure has been intimate. In the guinea pig, definite TB can be detected a month or six weeks after inoculation if the dose is large enough.

Q. When TB germs lie dormant in a person from childhood, does it mean that the same germs lie in the body for years without multiplying? If so, why don't they multiply?

A. Tubercle bacilli may lie dormant in areas of disease for long periods of time. Just why this is so is not definitely known. Presumably they are surrounded by lime or scar tissue which deprives them of nutrition and they hibernate, so to speak.

Taber Man Heads Weekly Editors

A. H. Avery, of the Taber Times, on Saturday last was elected president of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association at their annual convention held in Calgary.

Mr. Avery replaces Clyde C. Jessup, of Nanton News, last year's president. Other officers elected were C. B. Nesbitt, of the Brooks Bulletin, first vice-president; William Miller, of the Olds Gazette, second vice-president; C. A. Clark, of the High River Times, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Members elected to the executive were William Drayner, of the Wetaskiwin Times; B. Pletschett, of the Edmonton La Surviance; John Hucklell, of the Innisfail Province; and Alex Balloch, of the Coleman Journal.

The national president of the CWNA, Hugh Templin, of the Fergus (Ontario) News, outlined the problems facing the weekly newspaper publishers in the post-war era. Mr. Templin illustrated from the staff changes in his own newspaper how the employment situation has created difficulties for the publishers.

Hockey Notes

Johnny Rypien, centre for Edmonton Canadians, is enjoying success in exhibition matches. To date he has scored three goals and has had seven assists in appearing in five exhibition matches played in Edmonton.

Ronald Collings, starry defence man of last year's Coleman Juniors, has made a favorable impression with Vancouver Juniors. Coach Johnny Clark is quoted, "Collings, from Coleman, Alberta, is showing brilliant form. He is a fast-breaking, hard-hitting defenceman who skates hard both ways. We expect him to really strengthen our club."

Theatre Notes

From the living pages of one of the best loved best-sellers of our time, A. J. Cronin's "The Key of the Kingdom," 20th Century Fox brings to the screen of Cole's theatre, Bellevue, on Saturday the long-awaited motion picture that crashes new frontiers of high adventure and deep emotion.

The widely heralded "Salome, Where She Danced," Walter Wanger's Technicolor production, comes Saturday to the Palace theatre. It is one of Universal's most pretentious pictures. A tale of unusual action and intensity, is based on that strange legend of the place where Salome danced, the tiny city of Salome, Ariz., set down in the arid, impatient and briefly glorious diggings, a rugged detour on the trail of belated Forty-niners who passed that way during the post-Civil war period.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roggiani are visiting at Calgary.

People shop where they are invited—that's why it pays to advertise.

Town Fire Fighters Wanted

Applications will be received at the Town Office from all men desiring to join Coleman's new fire fighting brigade. Payment will be made to those attending regular practices as well as to those who are present at all fires which may occur within the town.

"Martin Simla Came To His Death As The Result Of A Heart Rupture" Verdict Of Coroner's Jury

Inquest Held Into Simla's Death on Tuesday Evening; Rupture Occurred While at Work.

An inquest, presided over by Coroner D. MacPherson, was held into the death of Martin Simla, McGillivray Creek employee, who died in the local hospital where he had been taken following an attack of sickness which struck him at his employment in McGillivray Creek mine. The inquest was held Tuesday evening in the council chamber. The jury personnel included Leo Shannon, foreman; R. R. Pattinson, Wm. Holyk, N. Schlosser, Chas. Gilmar and Chas. A. Beaton.

Dr. E. J. Liesemer was the first witness. He gave evidence of having been called to McGillivray mine on the morning of Wednesday, Oct. 24, due to a man having collapsed in the mine. Upon seeing the patient he noticed he was suffering from shock and was visibly trembling, and that the patient complained of a pain in the chest. The patient was taken immediately to the hospital where he was found to be suffering from a ruptured blood vessel. He died at approximately 2 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 27.

Dr. Stewart, of Blairmore, was called. He had performed an autopsy on the body. He stated there were no external marks of violence. A blood sac near the heart was filled with small blood clots and in addition he found a ruptured blood vessel. Asked by the coroner what he attributed as the exact cause of death Dr. Stewart replied that death was caused by a rupture of the aorta.

Joe Simla, son and partner of deceased, identified his father's body for the jury. He revealed that he and his father had been retimbering old workings located at 18 on number 4 level. The place was wet, and he told of a little slide occurring on the high side of an adjoining place. He had advised his father to use his shovel on the small stuff that had slid down while he attended to the larger pieces of rock. His father came upon a rock the approximate size of a coal scuttle and laid his shovel down to move it. As he rolled it into the muck he stopped in his stooped position and told Joe he was feeling sick. Joe noticed him perspiring freely and helped him over to the buckets where he gave him a sip of tea. The two men then started to walk out. Martin leaning heavily on Joe. They met Fireboss Peter Smith at 43 room, who helped the injured man. Deceased grew gradually weaker and complained of chest pains. Mr. Smith advised the two men to rest while he went ahead for help. Help and a stretcher were soon forthcoming and the patient was taken to the surface.

Peter Smith, fireboss, told of seeing Martin Simla in the morning and that the latter seemed to be his usual self. At 11 a.m. he set forth to make his inspection of the area in which the Simlas worked. He saw the two lights coming towards him and then saw Joe supporting his father. Martin looked sick and his legs were shaking. Joe told him that his father was pretty sick. Seeing that Martin was too sick to walk he advised them to sit and rest while he went ahead in search of help. He secured help and a stretcher, and he also phoned the surface to get the doctor and ambulance. In the meantime the Simlas had walked from number 43 to 37 when aid arrived, Joe explaining that he had been afraid his father would get cold due to him perspiring so freely.

Following the coroner's summary of the evidence the jury retired. They returned about half an hour later with the following verdict: "Martin Simla came to his death in Coleman Miners' hospital on Oct. 27 about 2 a.m. as the result of a heart rupture while working in the mine of McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co. Ltd. at Coleman, Alberta, about 11:30 a.m. Oct. 24."

Mines Inspector E. Morgan Given Lethbridge Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Have Been Honored at Many Social Events; D. B. T. Brown to be New District Mines Inspector.

Evan Morgan, mines inspector in the Crows' Nest Pass for the past seven years, has been assigned a similar position in the Lethbridge and district coal fields and will leave for his new assignment shortly. His successor in the Pass field is said to be D. B. T. Brown, at present mines inspector in the Drumheller Valley.

Since the announcement of the new assignment, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan have been the honored guests in a merry round of social events where they have been the recipients of many beautiful gifts and expressions of goodwill and friendship.

Possibly the highlight of the social functions was that held in Turtle Mountain Playgrounds on Tuesday evening of last week when the Crows' Nest Pass Mine Rescue and First Aid Association met at a banquet to honor Mr. Morgan on his departure from the Pass. Mr. Morgan had been president of the association since first coming here in 1938. The war curbed its activities, but the association still survived. Mr. Dave Young, general manager of the Hillcrest Mohawk, was program chairman.

During the evening's festivities,

Mr. Morgan was presented with a leather travelling case and a leather brief case, for which he ably expressed his thanks to the more than one hundred members and guests present.

Mr. Morgan came to the Pass from Edmonton where he was mine manager of the Beverly mine in that district.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Morgan was pleasantly surprised when she was called to the home of her daughter where she found twenty-four friends gathered to do her honor. During a very pleasant social evening she was presented with a beautiful picture of Crows' Nest Mountain in spring time, photographed by Mr. T. Gushul, of Blairmore. In addition she was further presented with a handsome leather handbag. Mrs. Harold Chamberlain and Mrs. Stan Price were the hostesses. Mrs. Morgan expressed her appreciation of the expressions of good will which she had received and also thanked her friends for their two much appreciated gifts.

Don't Put Your Coat On Yet...

THE JOB'S NOT FINISHED

Fighting has ended... but having laid down the tools of war we can't fold our arms and consider the job done.

A lot of things have to be attended to. That's why we're having another Victory Loan.

And it's just as necessary that we buy 9th Victory Bonds as the bonds we bought while the war was on.

A lot of war expenses remain to be paid. Other expenses connected with our war effort are still going on. So—Canada needs money to meet these bills.

Our allies look to us to help provide food and other necessities which liberated people sorely require. Canadian farms and Canadian factories must furnish these things. Canada needs money to provide credits so that needy countries may buy from us.

Our fighting men must be re-established in civil life and those sick and wounded returned to health. That is their due. Canada needs money to do this.

The 9th Victory Loan, therefore, is a challenge to every Canadian to help FINISH THE JOB!

Coleman MUST BUY MORE VICTORY BONDS

This time one loan must do the work of two. There will not be another Victory Loan for a year. We must buy bonds this time—double the amount we bought last time. That will not be hard to do because the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12-month period.

DISCHARGED PERSONNEL MAY RETURN TO OLD JOBS

The Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act, passed by Parliament in 1942, sets forth conditions under which employers MUST REINSTATE their former employees in their employment after discharge.

This Act and its Regulations are administered by the Dominion Minister of Labour, through the National Employment Service. Reinstatement Officers are available in the National Employment Offices to answer inquiries, and assist in adjusting cases.

Employees—either men or women—are to be reinstated if:

- they worked for their employer 3 months immediately prior to enlistment, and were not replacing another employee who has since been reinstated;
- they left their employment to join the Armed Services, the Merchant Marine, or the Fire Fighters Corps;
- they apply to their employer for reinstatement, verbally or in writing, within 3 months following discharge in Canada or 4 months if discharged Overseas.

Provision may be made for extension of time if the employee's health prevents him or her from returning within the specified three months. In this event, the employer must be advised within the 3 or 4 months, as the case may be.

The following points in the legislation are also important:

- Discharged men and women upon reinstatement are to be given conditions not less favourable than would have been enjoyed had they continued in employment instead of joining the Forces.
- The period of time spent with the Armed Services is to count for seniority rights, pension rights, vacations with pay, and certain other benefits.
- Discharged personnel who cannot perform their former duties are to be reinstated in the most suitable employment available, at which they are capable of working.
- If an employer dismisses a reinstated employee within 6 months, he must be able to prove in court that he had reasonable cause for so doing.

ALL EX-SERVICE MEN AND WOMEN ARE URGED TO USE THE FACILITIES OF THE NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT SERVICE WHEN LOOKING FOR WORK.

Insurance and Its Guarantee of Security

A prowler picked him up, wandering the streets in the wee small hours, clad only in pyjamas. His eyes were wild, his gait uncertain, but he was strictly sober, middle-aged and of good presence. The policeman wrapped a rug around him and got him into the car. All the way to the station, he babbled: "I'm ruined. It's all gone. I'm done for," in an unceasing litany.

The warmth of the police station calmed him. The desk-sergeant gave him a mug of coffee. He begged for a cigarette and puffed it hungrily. Carefully, he was asked the routine questions regarding his identity and gave a good address. As to why he was "loitering by night," he would only say: "I don't know! Where am I? I'm ruined."

A phone call brought assurance from his wife that she would come immediately. During the interval of waiting, the wanderer's dam of reticence broke, under careful questioning, He leaned forward, elbows on knees, finger interlaced, as if in supplication.

"Listen," he said, in a strained, well-bred voice. "You've got to believe me! I'm ruined. There's nothing left. Yesterday my insurance agent called me up and told me that all the fire, automobile and casualty insurance companies had gone out of business."

"I ran out of the house tonight because it was on fire. You say my wife is coming for me. Thank God she escaped, and the children, too. Guess I must have lost my head."

"Can't you understand?" he pleaded. "There's nothing left; nothing but the clothes we stand in and a few hundred dollars in my bank account! What will that get us?"

"But you have a business?" consoled the police sergeant. "You are a solid member of the community." "Have I? Am I?" countered the victim, incredulously and with a hollow laugh. "What good is my business? I have no insurance. My credit is wiped out, in consequence. All my notes will be called. I dare not send out a delivery truck, for fear of accident. I hardly dare operate the plant, on account of the third-party risk."

"Supposing my place burns?" he wailed. "What's the answer? How do I stay in business? You surely must realize my position? I have got to find some means of saving enough money to set up reserves to meet the emergencies that were formerly covered by my insurance policies. Maybe you can tell me how I am going to do it, after 25 years of hard work and careful planning?"

"It's no use. It's all over. I've got to get out of here," he insisted, his voice shrill with tension.

A door opened and his wife stood before him. He stared at her fur coat and smart hat as though he had never seen them before. "Come home," she said. "The whole house is aroused, but nothing matters as long as you are safe. Here's your overcoat and here's your hat. Put them on and let's get started."

"But," he insisted, bewildered,

"the house is gone; everything's lost!" "You've been dreaming," she said, very softly. "Come on home." "Thank heaven," he murmured. "But what if it had all been reality?"

Council Purchases $4,000 In Victory Bonds

At the regular meeting of the town council on Monday evening discussion arose as to the amount the town could comfortably invest in Ninth Victory Loan bonds.

Finance Chairman J. Ramsay gave a report on the town's finances and suggested that $4,000 be invested. He was supported by the secretary, who stated the town could invest that amount. On motion of Councillor Cox it was agreed that $4,000 be invested.

Monday night's purchase boosts the town's total Victory Loan purchases to $17,500.

WEDDINGS

GOULDING-LAITHWAITE

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hill, and under a canopy of red, white and blue streamers, a quiet but very beautiful wedding took place by candlelight early Saturday evening, Oct. 27, when John Goulding and Nora Laithwaite exchanged their wedding vows. Rev. G. A. Kettlys was the officiating clergyman.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. E. Hill, was tastefully gowned in an afternoon frock of deep cerise crepe with shoulder corsage of pale pink roses and bouvardia. Her matron of honor, Mrs. J. Kostelnik, was dressed in green with tiny touches of gold and her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Hill, mother of the bride, chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of printed dusky blue crepe, with corsage of deep red rosebuds.

Sgmn. Ernest Goulding, recently returned from overseas, was his father's groomsman.

After the ceremony about thirty guests were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Hill. The bride's table was centred by a beautifully decorated three-tier wedding cake. The floral decorations were pale mauve chrysanthemums and fern. Later in the evening a reception was held in the home of the newly married couple when about seventy-five guests were present. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. S. Mitchell and Mr. George Sumner, of Lethbridge, and Mr. and Mrs. T. Corrie and Mr. and Mrs. G. Halverson, of Coaldale.

FARMERS' BULLETIN

FARM MACHINERY OFF RATION LIST

All rationing controls have been removed from sales of farm machinery, and restrictions on the production or importation of such machinery have been lifted.

Price controls remain. Generally, maximum price for farm implements is the price at which such items sold during the basic period, August 15—September 11, 1941. Quoted prices do not include cost of delivery to the purchaser.

Under Consumers' Credit Order No. 225, section 10, terms of sale for farm machinery are: 1/3 of quoted price paid in cash; the balance of the credit price to be paid within two years of the date of the contract in stated amounts at specified dates. Any allowance for a trade-in is to be deducted from the unpaid balance.

Despite the lifting of production restrictions, it is expected that the shortage of components such as malleable castings and sheet steel will limit the maximum output of farm implements during the year July 1, 1945, to June 30, 1946, to a 24% increase (on tonnage basis) over the output in the preceding 12 months.

Farmers' Poultry Prices

Farmers selling all types of poultry, except turkeys, direct to consumers are permitted a 25% markup over the wholesale ceiling prices established for the zone in which they are located. Turkey producers are allowed a 20% markup over the wholesale level.

Potato Storage Allowance

(Order A-1560 now in effect)

A storage allowance of 5c per 75-lb. bag of potatoes and 7c per 100-lb. bag is allowed on November 1. Another 5c per 75-lb. bag and 6c per 100-lb. bag may be added on December 1, and another 5c per 75-lb. bag and 7c per 100-lb. bag on January 1, 1946. There will be no storage adjustment for February but monthly increases will be resumed on March 1.

FARMERS' RATION COUPONS

Coupons covering farmer sales or farm household consumption of meat and butter, and sales of preserves must be forwarded to Local Ration Boards in primary producers' envelopes (RB-61). Reports for November should reach the Local Ration Boards not later than December 10.

Following are the valid coupon dates for November:

	MEAT	BUTTER	SUGAR	PRESERVES
November 1.....	M 9	128
" 8.....	M 10
" 15.....	M 11	129	66, 67	P 20, 21
" 22.....	M 12	130
" 29.....	M 13	131

Farmers are required to send in "M" coupons to the Local Ration Board for meat they consume, and meat they sell to former neighbours at the rate of 4 lbs. per coupon. Farmers who slaughter meat need not turn in of the end of the month more than half the valid meat coupons in the ration books of their household. Farmers who purchase meat from other farmers must surrender to the selling farmer one meat coupon for every 4 lbs. of meat purchased, even if this means surrendering coupons not yet valid.

FARM SLAUGHTERERS

Farmers who slaughter for their own household consumption or for the consumption of their former neighbours, are not required to hold a slaughter permit. Any excess of farm slaughtered meat over the farmer's or his neighbour's needs may be sold only to the holder of a regular slaughter permit in quantities not less than a quarter of beef or a side of Pork. Sheep, lamb or colts slaughtered by the farmer for his own or his neighbour's use may not be sold into the meat trade.

Licensed slaughterer's quotas for cattle have been temporarily suspended and until further notice a licensed slaughterer may slaughter all the cattle needed for his requirements.

Rationing

is your assurance of a fair share. is a protection against waste... shortages... inflation. That is why farmers are asked to continue to collect and turn in coupons to their Local Ration Boards—once a month—in the RB-61 envelope.

GIVE THEM THE TOOLS OF PEACE

BY BUYING MORE VICTORY BONDS

Give our returned men at least an even chance to re-establish themselves in civilian life. We gave them the tools of war and they finished the job: now give them the tools of peace.

Your money, loaned to the government in VICTORY BONDS, will be YOUR savings to buy for you the improved homes, stoves, refrigerators, cars, etc., that you have been wishing for these many years.

BUY DOUBLE THIS TIME—the same rate of savings as in previous Victory Loans, will pay for twice as many bonds as before.

Hazel Krzywy Gives Journal A Boost

The Journal is deeply grateful for the nice little boost given it by Hazel Krzywy in a letter received on Wednesday morning. Hazel is now based at Rockcliffe, Ontario, over which station presides none other than Foss Boulton, officer commanding.

Hazel's letter reads:

Dear Editor:

I'm just dropping you a line to let you know that I'm receiving the Coleman Journal weekly from my parents, and want you to know that I'm very proud to show the paper to the Easterners and show them what a fine job my home town is doing. Immediately they ask, "Well! Does it come out once a month?" Whereupon I reply that it comes out weekly on the dot. It's certainly a very superior paper to the small-town ones I have seen down east, and I've seen quite a few.

I'm stationed down here at Rockcliffe No. 3 Release Centre, with Foss Boulton as my officer commanding, and let me tell you that really makes one feel good to see someone from your own home town in a position like that and doing so well.

All in all, I would just like to say that there is no place like the Pass, and even in all of my travels nothing can compare with it and the people that make the Pass. What do you say?

Must say so-long for now. Hoping this finds you in your best.

I remain, sincerely,

Cpl. Hazel Krzywy.

Halloween Celebrated By Many Youngsters Wednesday Night

Youngsters dressed in fancy fairy costumes were to be seen walking to school on Wednesday afternoon where Hallowe'en parties, presided over by their teachers, were held in the class rooms.

As darkness fell more and more youngsters in weird costumes and masked faces were to be seen on the streets and knocking on doors in search of apples and other tidbits. One youngster had heard that they were not going to be allowed to go out Hallowe'en night in search of fun and confectionery and with an anxious manner came to The Journal office to find out if such a statement was true. Informed that it was untrue she brightened up and went happily on her way.

No reports of damage have been received so far, although a few windows will require the soap washed from them.

THE KEY TO SECURITY

When you buy Victory Bonds, for whatever reason, you are fashioning the key to your personal security. You are investing in national security first of all. Canada can only have a secure future by fulfilling her obligations as a nation with world-wide interests. Your first reason for supporting the 9th Victory Loan is to help provide Canada with funds needed for national obligations. But with your savings secure in Victory Bonds you have provided yourself with the key to security and to post-war opportunity.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
NOVEMBER 4

FELLOWSHIP IN THE CHURCH

Memory Selection: Be tenderly affectioned one to another, in honor preferring one another. Romans 12:10.

Lesson: Matthew 18, 15-20; Acts 2, 44-47; 4, 33-37; Romans 12; Philippians 1:27-24; 1 John 3:14-20.

Devotional Reading: 1 Corinthians 14-10.

The Text Explained With Comments

There are various gifts among church members, Romans 12:1-8.

There are all sorts of gifts in the church, and no one has any cause for thinking too highly of his own gift. He must judge himself soberly in relation to other people, to each of whom God has given a measure of faith. Just as there are many parts of our body and each part serves a different purpose, so we who are many, are parts of a community, or of the Church of God, and to each a different gift for service has been given. Do not disparage the gifts which God has given to others.

Some can make known the Word of God, some have administrative ability, some can teach, some are eloquent preachers; let each exercise his gift to the best of his ability. Yet others there are who can give liberally; others who can give wise counsel; and others whose presence brings cheer. Every good and perfect gift cometh from the Lord.

With cheerfulness, "Not all the helps or hindrances to a church are expressed in active deeds. Often the greatest help to a church is given by those people who create a spiritual climate. Such people, by their Christian spirit of faith, hope and love, set upon other people as the sun, the wind and the rain act upon growing things. On the other hand, the greatest hindrance to a church is not those who actively block its efforts: those are those whose spirit is like a nipping frost, creating a winter climate, by which seed growth is checked" (Halford E. Luebeck).

Right Attitudes for Church Members, Romans 12:9-18. Love for others must be genuine; let your love be a real thing, with a loathing of evil and a bent for what is good (Moffatt).

Ahor that which is evil. "There is no stronger word in the English language than this word 'abhor'. It means to flee from, to avoid with all diligence, to keep at the farthest possible distance from evil. Yet how complacently we accept the company of evil in most instances! How casually we listen to profanity from the stage; how unperturbedly do we read smut in popular fiction! How thin is the line that divides our 'dear' from actual dishonesty! How narrow the margin between our statements and absolute falsehoods!"

CHINA'S OPPORTUNITY

China is a nation trained in handicraft. Before the war, the Japanese swamped the American market with knockknacks which sold for small sums but in total amounted to big business. The Chinese could capture much of this with ease, because they are as deft as the Japanese and far beyond them in beauty and imagination of designs.

Rutin, a new rare drug found in tobacco, is effective in treating a condition called capillary fragility, which is associated with high blood pressure.

Often For The Best

Frankness In International Conferences Is Very Good Thing

Everybody dislikes secret diplomacy and wants open covenants openly arrived at. But when we get a group of Foreign Ministers openly disagreeing with each other to the extent of actually calling names, people don't like it and express alarm. In the longer view, isn't it a wonderfully hopeful thing for the future international life that the London Conference has been such a frank conference? Instead of that too, too familiar agreement "in principle," which disagrees in every important detail, the Foreign Ministers in London openly disagreed in principle. It is novel and refreshing.

One sure way to hasten the advent of One World is, obviously, to get the nations to discuss and settle world problems the way the individual nations debate their domestic problems. When you have a couple of Foreign Ministers talking to each other like a Republican to a Democrat in the House of Representatives or a Laborite to a Conservative in the House of Commons, you are beginning to shake off the bonds of a narrow nationalism.

As for secret diplomacy, abroad or at home, things have been said on the subject that are lacking both in charity and understanding. For instance, it is always taken for granted that when a conference of diplomats goes into secret session or a group of political leaders go into a huddle they are planning mischief against the public; like a gangster conference.

Actually, the diplomats and party leaders meet in secret to find a way out of a deadlock which has been precipitated by open debate. They meet behind closed doors to work out a compromise dictated by necessity. They meet in a smoke-filled hotel room to nominate the inevitable compromise candidate.

And in any case what does it mean when people say that a successful international conference must be preceded by careful preparation? It sounds very much like "secret diplomacy."—New York Times.

Capacity To See

Ultra-Violet Vision Follows An Operation For Cataracts

Ultra-violet vision, a remarkable discovery by a brilliant young English physician, A. G. Gwynn, is possessed by persons who have been operated on for cataract and acquire the capacity to see in ultra-violet light.

Prof. George Waldo, of the Harvard biological laboratories, said:

"The normal eye can not see in ultra-violet light, he explained in an address to the Optical Society of America.

The lens of the human eye contains yellow coloring matter which becomes deeper yellow as age advances. Dr. Waldo said. Thus, older people may even have difficulty in seeing ordinary violet light.

But when removed of the lens by cataract operation, sensitivity to violet light is increased 1,000 times and persons who have undergone such operations then can read in ultra-violet light an optician's test chart which is invisible in this light to normal persons.

Dr. Waldo said when the lens is removed in a cataract operation, ultra-violet light can penetrate the eye and reach the sensitive retina.

The result is ultra-violet vision.

Dr. Gwynn, who lost one eye and the lens of the other in a laboratory explosion some years ago, returned to his experiments and found that he could see ultra-violet parts of the spectrum which previously had been invisible to him.

Armor Plated Cars

Hitler And Goering Cars On Display In United States

The personal automobiles of Hitler and Goering rolled through Washington in a freight car on their way to Fort Meyer for use in the victory loan in the United States.

The two armor-plated Mercedes-Benz machines attracted considerable attention when they were unloaded in New York. Goering's low, sleek convertible coupe was unlabeled with little difficulty, but Hitler's 19-foot-long job gave workers an afternoon's work of jacking and towing.

Bullet-proof glass on Goering's car is an inch thick. Hitler's windows are 2½ inches thick—presumably because he was twice as important as Goering.

Hitler's car is six feet high and seven feet wide, Goering's five feet high and six feet wide—not allowing for the fact that Goering is twice as wide as Hitler was.

JUST ADD WATER

According to Marketing a company has been formed to manufacture orange powder from Florida oranges. A daily output of 6,000 pounds of ultra-violet parts is expected from the new plant which will be in production next spring. The addition of water to the powder makes the product substantially indistinguishable from fresh orange juice in appearance and vitamin content; it is claimed.

Plumbing is the science of getting water where it is wanted and how it is wanted, and then getting it away again.

Measured In Handfuls

Millions Of Tons Of Materials Yielded Little Atomic Power

Millions of tons in construction and in raw materials went into the atomic bomb plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn, but what came out was measurable in handfuls.

Vest pockets sometimes could carry out the products of what was probably the greatest construction job in history. Brief cases in the early days were regular vehicles for transporting things that promised to change the course of civilization.

Later on the products reached the stage of an occasional ton that was inconspicuously handled.

Early in the project, chemists and physicists had to work with materials measured in millions of a gram—far less than the weight of a human breath.

After a time they got up to thousands of a gram, something like the weight of the moisture left on a thin dime after you lick one side with your tongue. Then grams were reached, and in 1944 amounts that might equal a few nickel cents.

Even in the final stages the actual explosive stuff for a big bomb is not heavy by ordinary standards of shipment.

In addition to other shipments there were consignments of radioactive materials. These are compounds, products of some phases of atomic bomb work, that are useful in medical treatment.

These raw materials had to travel fast, for they usually lose their rays in days or weeks, and some last only a few hours.

When brief cases carried important shipments, officers usually were the porters. Sometimes they were in uniform and sometimes not, still other shipments were carried by two-man teams, riding in a Pullman compartment.

To Fill Vacuum

Russia Likely To Take Japan's Place As Asiatic Power

DeWitt MacKenzie, A.P. foreign news analyst, says: Gen. MacArthur's epitaph for broken Japan is so starkly realistic that it brings one up with a jolt.

"This ends its military might and its military influence in international affairs. It no longer reckons as a world power, either large or small."

Thus perishes an evil power which for almost 100 years increasingly dominated the Orient until finally greed impelled it to overreach itself in an effort to master and enslave not only its neighbors but to conquer great countries of the Western world.

A vacuum has been created in the Orient with the disappearance of this dominant power. It is in the nature of things that something must rush in to fill that vacuum. That is, some other people will in due course take its place. What will it be?

The probabilities are that for a considerable period the influence of the Big Three—Britain, the United States and Russia—will control the "Orient, pending the emergence of the new Asiatic power. China is a logical successor, but it will be long before she could assume the crown, for she is terribly weak in all categories excepting one—magnificent spirit which enabled her to hang on in face of the Jap onslaught.

The Soviet Union is extending its influence methodically in the Asiatic sphere. Japan's defeat is rendering this fact easier.

This is no time for prophesy as to what will come out of the Oriental melting-pot, but we shall indeed be short-sighted if we don't recognize that Russia may be the power which will rush into the vacuum created by Japan's elimination.

REG'LAR FELLERS—Brain Food Needed

Air Ambulance

Has Been Inaugurated For Medical Emergencies In Saskatchewan

Air ambulance service to provide rapid transportation in emergencies and also to overcome transportation difficulties, specially in winter, will be inaugurated by the Saskatchewan Department of Public Health, Hon. T. C. Douglas, Premier and minister of public health, announced. The province has been divided into two sections and service in the area north of Prince Albert will start at once, the Premier said. Service for the southern area will be started on December 1. Service will be confined to Saskatchewan. The Department of Public Health has acquired one Norseman aircraft, which is being conditioned for the southern part of the Province. Aircraft now operated by the Department of Natural Resources will be utilized in the north.

Designed for medical emergencies, the ambulance service is intended to provide transportation for the sick if air transport is the only practical method for getting the necessary medical attention for the patient in the shortest possible time. All calls for transportation in medical emergencies must be made to the director of the Medical Services Division in the health department. Flights will be made only when the request is received from a physician or a registered nurse. Northern calls will also be accepted if they come from other responsible persons such as Local Improvement District inspectors, clergymen, justices of the peace, or representatives of the natural resources department.

Premier Douglas said that a non-stop charge of $25 per flight would be made, regardless of the distance travelled. He said this fee would not pay the expenses of even the shortest trip. Where in the opinion of the health department a trip was not necessitated by a real emergency, the actual cost of the flight will be charged. The air ambulance will land as close to a patients home as possible, depending on weather and local landing conditions. Patients will only be taken to Government licensed airports in the province.

Dr. A. E. Berry, director of sanitary engineering, Ontario Department of Health, recently said that in many areas where the greatest opposition developed to pasteurization, there is today complete satisfaction with the law, enacted seven years ago, and milk consumption has more than doubled. He added that the sharp reduction in typhoid, undulant fever and para-typhoid is an effective answer to one-time critics of pasteurization.

Only one province in Canada—Ontario—at present has compulsory pasteurization legislation. More than 98 per cent of all milk sold for fluid consumption in the province is pasteurized, and that percentage will be increased soon when rural areas which increased in population during war years will be brought under provisions of the legislation which applies to municipalities with populations of 300 or more and the other areas where pasteurization is feasible.

Poor Accent

American Slang Sneaking Into The Scottish Dialect

The Burns Federation has disclosed the awful news that American slang is sneaking into the Scottish dialect. It may not get very far—not if Scots are still like the one who heard an American declaring he came from "God's own country." "Mon," countered the Scot, "Ye hae an awfu' puir Scots accent!"

On the other hand, there was the Englishman who maintained that a Scottish accent was nothing but the result of a foreign people trying to speak a language they never could master! And now we go deep in a foxhole—Halifax Chronicle.
